STEP 1

BAHRIA UNIVERSITY KARACHI CAMPUS

AI-Powered Admission Marketing Campaign

YOUR FUTURE STARTS HERE

Introduction

Bahria University Karachi Campus is a higher education institution in Karachi, Pakistan. For this project, I have selected Bahria University Karachi Campus to develop an AI-powered admission marketing campaign.

Objective of the Campaign

The main objective of this campaign is to attract prospective students and encourage them to explore the educational opportunities offered by Bahria University Karachi Campus. The campaign will use attractive visuals, informative infographics, and promotional videos to create awareness about the university.

Target Audience

- Intermediate students who want to pursue higher education.
- Students looking for undergraduate degree programmes.
- Parents who want to explore university options for their children.
- Students who use social media to search for educational opportunities.

Proposed Marketing Strategy

The campaign will use AI tools to create five admission posters, infographic content, and a promotional video. These materials will highlight the university campus, student life, learning environment, and verified admission information.

The content will be designed for platforms such as Instagram, Facebook, and YouTube to reach prospective students through engaging multimedia content.

Campaign Slogan

“YOUR FUTURE STARTS HERE”

Expected Outcome

The campaign aims to increase awareness of Bahria University Karachi Campus, attract students' attention, and encourage prospective applicants to visit the university's official website for accurate programme and admission information.

Note: Official programme details and admission dates should be verified from the university website before publication.
